ABOUT CEED CONCORDIA

CEED Concordia is a non-profit organization operating in Montreal, Canada and Gulu, Uganda. We are an organization dedicated to social justice, community empowerment, and positive change by supporting youth in our communities. CEED offers Concordia and Ugandan students an opportunity to contribute to sustainable community projects in Montreal and northern Uganda for internships. We are working to shape better communities and future leaders for a better tomorrow. Our program is supported by a fee-levy of Concordia University's undergraduate students, a tangible expression of Concordia's commitment to civic responsibility and experiential learning. We strive to create opportunities for students from Montreal and Uganda to gain firsthand experience in the community development sector. Every year, approximately 25-30 youth from both communities become involved with our program through internships, academic initiatives, and various positions within our organization.

ABOUT THE PROJECT

As the Black Lives Matters movement is sweeping the world by storm and becoming globalized, we recognize and acknowledge that Canada, too, has a history of systemic injustice. With the understanding that this wave is a movement and not simply a moment, this project will contribute to the narrative shift that is happening around black people in Canada. Documentaries created as a result of this project will center the voices and stories of black initiatives and leaders in Montreal - and ultimately Canada at large. Issues such as systemic injustice and discrimination in various sectors, police brutality, and incarceration rates will not be shied away from. Throughout this project we will explore and amplify topics including but not limited to the role of black community workers, black people in succeeding in their respective fields, and the everyday life of black people in Montreal. The positive and negative aspects are not mutually exclusive and will be filmed with that understanding. This project will explore, analyze, critique, and challenge the current narrative surrounding black lives in Canada - particularly in Montreal, Quebec. This project will be broken into five parts: development, pre-production, production, post-production, and distribution.
