ABOUT THE PROJECT

Every day around the world, countless women face pay disparity, experience social pressure to leave the workforce and are expected to perform unpaid care work. Thankfully, entrepreneurship can provide a powerful antidote to some of these labour issues that disproportionately affect women.

With that in mind, CEED Concordia and Nuestro Flow (a Montreal-born social enterprise operating in Bogota, Colombia) created a program for visible minority female entrepreneurs in Quebec and Colombia to strengthen their businesses and draw attention to the barriers both sets of women face.

The goal of this documentary project is to portray the entrepreneurial reality of women partaking in this program in Canada and Colombia during a 30 min feature documentary.

We are aiming to tell a story of union among women entrepreneurs while observing the potential racial and gender barriers that objectively surround their lives. During the filming process, we hope to learn about the entrepreneurs while they embark on their own journey of self-discovery.

The documentary will also give an insight into local businesses in both Quebec and Colombia. By taking part in this project, on top of meeting many interesting people from multicultural backgrounds, you will engage in the five main parts of filmmaking: development, pre-production, production, post-production, and distribution.

ABOUT CEED CONCORDIA

CEED Concordia is a non-profit organization operating in Montreal, Canada and Gulu, Uganda. We are an organization dedicated to social justice, community empowerment, and positive change by supporting youth in our communities. CEED offers students an opportunity to contribute to sustainable community projects for internships. We are working to shape better communities and future leaders for a better tomorrow. Our program is supported by a fee-levy of Concordia University's undergraduate students, a tangible expression of Concordia's commitment to civic responsibility and experiential learning. We strive to create opportunities for students internationally to gain firsthand experience in the community development sector. Every year, approximately 25-30 youth from both communities become involved with our program through internships, academic initiatives, and various positions within our organization.
